Feel Safe Again, Inc. was officially established September 2003, incorporated in December, and publicly announced January 2004 during a press conference at the Statehouse in Boston. We are a statewide grassroots 501(c)(3) tax-exempt nonprofit organization for Victims of Stalking.

Our goal is to provide potentially life-saving information and support group services to victims and survivors of stalking. Our hope is that no other victim has to live their life in fear. We want to help you "Feel Safe Again" by teaching you how to be safe again. Together we CAN make a difference!

Slain Woman's Sis Urges Action on Long-Stalled Restraining Order Bill by Dave Wedge

March 28, 2009, Boston, MA - This Memorial Day, relatives of slain Everett waitress Sandy Berfield will mark the 10th year she's been absent from their annual family cookout. But still, a law the family says might have saved her life is stalled in legislative limbo on Beacon Hill.

The bill, which has been filed every year since Berfield was killed in January 2000 by a package bomb planted by a crazed customer, would allow victims to get restraining orders against random stalkers. Current laws allow restraining orders only in cases involving family members, roommates or lovers.

March 28, 2009, Boston, MA - After two years of living in terror, Sandy Berfield was killed by a man obsessed with her. The man sent a package bomb to her home. Now, Berfield's sister is fighting for restraining order legislation she says may have saved Sandy's life.

Cheryl Darisse says her sister slept with a knife under her pillow ever since she waited on a man at Bickford's Restaurant who then stalked her for two years.

The 2009 Massachusetts Victim Assistance Academy will be held from July 26 - July 31, 2009.

The MVAA curriculum reflects a new model that helps victim service providers better understand the crime victim's experience on simultaneous levels...across time, across discipline or system. A brief overview of this innovative model is outlined below. We encourage you to pursue this innovative training experience that alumni have praised for its notable contributions to their personal and professional lives.

Space is limited and applications are due by May 18, 2009.

When tragedy strikes a loved one, the anger and grief can be overwhelming. But as Cheryl Darisse discovered, fighting back against senseless crime sometimes uncovers a wealth of personal strength and purpose.

In the wake of tragedy, there is only grief and loss - but in the wake of preventable tragedy, there is also responsibility. For Cheryl Darisse, whose younger sister was killed by a man who had spent two years stalking and harassing her, the grief and guilt of what happened has its own inescapable logic. As she puts it, if you do nothing after loss, then nothing will ever come out of it.
