"REFLECTIONS OF A LIFE WITH FREEDOM AND PEACE"

Feel Safe Again, Inc. was officially established September 2003, incorporated in December, and publicly announced January 2004 during a press conference at the Statehouse in Boston. We are a statewide grassroots 501(c)(3) tax-exempt non-profit organization for Victims of Stalking.

Our goal is to provide potentially life-saving information and support group services to victims and survivors of stalking. Our hope is that no other victim has to live their life in fear. We want to help you "Feel Safe Again" by teaching you how to be safe again. Together we CAN make a difference!

Internet Harassment or Cruel Hoax?

Although the events surrounding the "MySpace suicide" took place in October 2006, this disturbing story has only recently been published in newspapers, featured on news stations and talk shows almost daily. Megan Meier, a 13-year-old girl from Dardenne Prairie, Missouri, who suffered from depression and attention deficit disorder, made a new friend, or so she thought.

"Josh" wanted to be friends, and was really nice to Megan for about a month before he suddenly turned on her. He began calling her horrible names, which he posted for others to see. In the end, Megan hanged herself. About six weeks later, her father found a message from Josh, telling the girl she was a bad person and the world would be better without her. Recently, because of Megan's death, city officials have unanimously passed a measure making online harassment a crime in Missouri City.

According to Jayne Hitchcock, founder and president of Working to Halt Online Abuse (WHOA), "What happened to her was horrible, don't get me wrong, but what needs to change is the accountability of sites such as MySpace, not creating laws that will do nothing like this one. MySpace, Yahoo, Hotmail, Facebook, etc., need to have some sort of safeguard so that fake profiles can NOT be opened up and used to demean, harass, or be forged in someone else's names. That is the answer." For more information or assistance, go to www.haltabuse.org. Please take a few minutes to listen to Jayne's recent radio interview regarding Megan's death...

Victims/Advocates Speak Out: Wal-Mart Stops Nationwide Sales of "Stalking T-Shirt"

Feel Safe Again, Inc. joins the Stalking Resource Center in commending Wal-Mart for recognizing the seriousness of stalking and removing stalking T-shirts from their store shelves.

Back in September, a victim in North Carolina contacted her local newspaper regarding a T-shirt which read, "Some Call It Stalking, I Call It Love" being sold at Wal-Mart. After reading about the T-shirt, we forwarded our concerns to the Stalking Resource Center, contacted the newspaper reporter and drafted a letter to Wal-Mart. This was not simply an opinion, freedom of speech, or the least bit funny. Stalking is NOT love! To harass, torment, target and potentially kill someone...is not love.

Stalking: Psychiatric Perspectives & Practical Approaches Edited By Debra A. Pinals, MD

Over the last two decades, stalking has received increasingly widespread attention. The establishment of anti-stalking legislation has helped to spur interest in stalking research and the forensic assessment of stalkers. Popular representations of stalking have made the public more aware of this phenomenon.

Debra A. Pinals, MD, is the Director, Forensic Psychiatry Fellowship and Training, Department of Psychiatry, University of Massachusetts Medical School.
