From the Daily OM...Nurturing Mind, Body and Spirit...October 26, 2004

The word 'therapy' conjures up images of a lot of talking. But verbal communication is not the only way to uncover hidden emotions. Statistics show that a woman now 21 years old has a 1 in 4 chance of experiencing a violent crime in her lifetime. For them, much information is already available about how to reduce their risk ("stay alert") and how to respond if something bad happens ("fight back").
